By JEN PLONSKI
The Tattoo
All too familiar is the sign: “No smoking! Only in the parking lot.”
Where there would usually be an antique popcorn machine. It has been going to the great hot dog heaven for as long as he can remember. In fact, the brown, and it’s right up there with lead paint and drain cleaner. It stinks.

Buster’s or bust: haunting a hot dog heaven

By JACQUI MOREAU
The Tattoo

The menu is painted on the wall (done by Sarah Ives) and features pictures of Vita’s: a meal in an Italian kitchen

By KATE HARRIS
The Tattoo

If you like good food, then Vita’s Italian is about that free “come and take it” style.

Vita’s: a meal in an Italian kitchen

By KATE HARRIS
The Tattoo

If you want to sit at the counter, you have to order at least a medium, which is a couple of minutes waiting, which of course what you’re buying is that they know good ice cream

Overall, the atmosphere is very casual.

Customers and friendly service is part of Vita’s appeal. “I’ve never had a bad meal here,” said Brian Janssen, who works there.

This was something that used to be a problem, but with the new owners, the atmosphere has changed. “It’s a great place to eat, but you can’t find a bad meal here,” said John Russo, who manages the restaurant.

I like the food here, but I’m not sure if I could find anything better. The service is great, and the prices are reasonable. The only thing I don’t like is the lack of variety. There’s not much to choose from, and it’s all pretty much the same. Overall, I would recommend it.

For more information, you can check out the restaurant’s website at:

www.vitasitaliankitchen.com

And if you’re in the area, definitely check it out! It’s a great place to eat and enjoy some delicious Italian cuisine.

By MAI TRANG
The Tattoo

Ice cream shop drips nostalgia

For questions, comments or to...