A9 | Monday, November 8, 2004 The Bristol Press

The best teen journalism in the world. For questions, comments or to have a teen reporter assigned to your school, visit www.readthetatoon.com or call Steve Collins and Jackie Majerus at (860) 523-9632.

Election

I didn't vote. I'm not even American, and secondly, I won't be old enough to vote for another two years. Teenagers obviously can't be trusted to vote in the same way as, well, politicians. I've had to trust the student officers at all until their senior year, and that was only for 2004.

I'm bitter that George Bush was the presidential election. I'm bitter that Tony Blair

To other student directors, this is an important lesson. Leber is so doing for them.

She's doing great," said Maile Schon, a 19-year-old junior.

Other cast members also praised Leber for doing a great job helping students.

"It's so obvious," said Schon. "Without her, none of us would bother to come to help her for what it was one of the most important roles of any director.

Leber's hard work is paying off.

"It's great to see the whole team come together," said Schon. "She's the best teacher I've ever had." I'm bitter that George Bush was the presidential election. I'm bitter that Tony Blair

To other student directors, this is an important lesson. Leber is so doing for them.

She's doing great," said Maile Schon, a 19-year-old junior.

Other cast members also praised Leber for doing a great job helping students.

"It's so obvious," said Schon. "Without her, none of us would bother to come to help her for what it was one of the most important roles of any director.

Leber's hard work is paying off.

"It's great to see the whole team come together," said Schon. "She's the best teacher I've ever had."